Spring 2012 Class Climate Evaluation Results

Dear Andrew Hill:

Attached are the Spring 2012 results for PHIL 1301 020 Introduction to Philosophy.

The report contains both quantitative and qualitative feedback to assist you in analyzing your results. Elements in the report include the number of respondents, mean, median, standard deviation, histogram, profile line and student feedback. I hope that you enjoy having this information and that we use it to improve the delivery of instruction at NVC.

Sincerely,

Julie

Comments Report

3. Faculty members believe that comments or examples are extremely valuable. Please answer the following questions.

3.1) Aspects of this course I found most helpful were...

- Have a lesson with structure.
- Having discussions throughout every class.
- Writing down what this class was all about on the board everyday. Taking notes and having small discussions with my group.
- Writing our words on the board. This really helped us remember what they were and what they meant.
- small group discussions and lectures.

3.2) Aspects of this course I would most like to see changed are...

- None
- Nothing
- Nothing.
- maybe a group activity where we have to present or make a poster of all the things we reviewed...
- more activities relating to the lectures.

3.3) Your instructor would like to know some specific things he/she did particularly well...

- Amazing patience as well as I greatly appreciated the handouts that the professor would prepare, they really helped the students understand what knowledge to take away from the lesson.
- Explain the lessons very well.
- Explained each chapter very well. Giving us definitions and making us write on the board.
- Kept the conversation alive.
- lectures were very comprehensible and allowed us to relate our personal lives to the topics of the course.

3.4) Your instructor would like to know some specific things you did not like about the course that he/she should change to improve his/her teaching...

- Boring way of presenting material.
- Get a shock collar to taze certain students that will not keep their opinions to themselves and interupt the class frequently.
- Giving us our exams back within a certain amount of time.
- Nothing
- no change.
- no comment.
