

Global Impact, Local Roots: EPIC Community College Fellows' Fulbright Journeys

Tuesday, April 28

12:30 – 1:30 p.m. Pacific
Virtual Event

Hear how community college educators are leveraging international experiences through Fulbright and Stanford's Education Partnership for Internationalizing the Curriculum (EPIC) fellowships to enhance teaching and broaden global learning opportunities for students.

For more information and event details, visit the event page.

Join Us

Discover how international education builds capacity, enriches curriculum, and supports student success at community colleges nationwide.

Register to attend

Speakers

Introduction

Kristyn Hara, Outreach/EPIC Manager, Stanford Global Studies, California; Fulbright U.S. Student Program

Moderator

Vincent L. Briley, Interim Associate Dean of Student Affairs, Montgomery College, Maryland; EPIC Leadership Fellow; Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program—International Education Administrator Award

Panel

Nicole Trevena Flores, Department Chair for Social Science and Global Education Coordinator, Southeast Community College, Nebraska; EPIC Leadership Fellow; Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program—International Education Administrator Award

Andrew Hill, Professor of Philosophy, St. Philip's College, Texas; EPIC Faculty Fellow; President, San Antonio Chapter of the Fulbright Association; Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence Program

Irene Young, Professor of Psychology, St. Philip's College, Texas; EPIC Faculty Fellow; Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence Program